4. Technical Support Services

Xerox DocuShare Customer Support is staffed with knowledgeable and trained support engineers who are ready to assist customers.

Incident Reporting

Incident reporting is done via the DocuShare Ticketing System. A case number is assigned for each reported DocuShare issue. This number is used in all communications with the customer and allows for easy tracking of the problem and its resolution. Incidents will be categorized and handled according to an assigned priority level, as determined by Xerox DocuShare Customer Support, indicated in the table below. The Xerox DocuShare Customer Support Team uses commercially reasonable efforts to respond to each support incident within the applicable response time and reduce the priority of cases, as shown below. Response times indicated below specify the time for initiation of investigation of the problem, not the length of time within which such problem may be resolved.

Initial Response

Initial Response means the supplier's initial response to the buyer regarding the issue reported. The supplier performs severity classification within 2 (two) hours and provides acknowledgment or notification to the buyer of the determined severity. The supplier maintains communication with the buyer according to the following guidelines.

Xerox Docushare Support Response Time

Severity	Description	Level of Effort	Initial Response	Status Updates
1	System is completely down, no work can be performed, all users affected	Continuous best efforts, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week	Immediate, but in no event to exceed 2 hours	Every hour until a Service Restoration is provided
2	Critical function within the system is down, some work can still be performed, multiple users affected	Continuous best efforts, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week	4 hours	Every 2 hours until a Service Restoration is provided
3	Non-critical issues (password resets, user account setup, etc.) and issues of limited scope or impact on end users	Commercially reasonable efforts, during normal US business hours	1 Business Day	N/A

Xerox DocuShare Customer Support shall use reasonable efforts to solve the case by providing a case resolution or acceptable workaround that reduces the issue's severity within the time allotted ("Average Resolution Time").

Average Resolution Time

Severity	Average Resolution Time
1 – Critical	36 hours
2 – High	48 hours
3 – Medium	5 days

Average Resolution Time is a guideline that provides no guarantee or warranty of the objective described therein.
